The Science Behind GR² Control

“G R” stands for Glycemic Response, so simply stated, GR² Control means that you are helping to control your blood sugar levels.* The “2” represents the exponential benefits for long-term health by following a low-glycemic response diet—from lower risk of heart disease, diabetes, and cancer to lower blood pressure, less chance of stroke, and other health risks.* The GNLD Scientific Advisory Board (SAB) and our Global Science Network (GSN) developed a state-of-the-art weight loss program based on breakthrough findings regarding the way the body uses and stores energy which we call GR² Control. GR² Control helps to instill proper eating habits using the right kind of low glycemic response foods, all supported by the four unique weight loss program products. The program will help “teach” your body to take in the kinds of nutrients it needs in optimum ratios, then utilize them efficiently.* GR² Control is a complete weight loss program based in nature and backed by science.

Tips on Goal Setting and Getting Started

As the old proverb goes, 'the longest journey begins with a single step' and weight loss is no exception. Here are some simple tips to get you started...

- Adopt a Can-Do attitude. Believe in yourself that you can take control of your life to eat less, eat healthier foods, and exercise more. Put the mind in action and the body will follow.
- Enlist support from a family member, co-worker, or friend. Make meals together, exercise together, share stories of difficulty and success. Motivate each other to keep going.
- Don't weigh yourself daily. Since the body fluctuates from day to day, experts recommend weighing yourself on the same scale the same day and time just once a week to get a true measure of weight status. Also, remember during normal period of plateaus, you may not see weight loss but you will notice a loss of inches.
- Don't try to lose too much too fast. Be sure to eat enough calories throughout the day to keep your metabolism burning fat. Very low calorie diets cause rapid water and muscle loss but don't result in sustained weight loss over the long term. Aim for 1 -2 pounds weight loss per week.
- Don't get discouraged even if you don't see rapid results. It takes your body time to learn how to lose weight and the slow and steady wins the race. If you have a bad day, just get right back to your regime the next day. If you follow the program, in time you will see results.
